Jed Stone, Frillby United:

«From the Sports Section:- LONGDALE COURIER - Skelsthorpe

The rivalry between the Slartibartfast fans and those of Frillby United has a long history. Its part of the old debate of which is better a Pan Galactic Gargle Blaster or a cut of tea. Though Zaphod Beeblebrox - Manager/owner of Slartibartfast is credited, through out the known (and unknown) parts of the Universe with being the creator of the Gargle Blaster it is one Arthur Dent holding a cup of tea that is in the Guinness Book of Future Records for being the tallest statue in the Universe and the prime cause of 'tea worship'. Many books have (or will) be written on the advantages of both these beverages as a refreshing drink and as a aid to fitness, the arguments usually boil down to the words of Zaphod when he said, 'There are many forms of tea but there is only one form of Gargle Blaster!' In the eyes of many that form usually spells trouble especially when it is sloshing about in the Slarty Boys, Slartibartfast's enthusiastic fans. Thus it is, that sane men and women cringe when the two factions are drawn together and meet in a football stadium.

When Slartibartfast and Frillby United last met the Slarty Boys, much to the relief of the local constabulary, proved to be the ideal hosts by providing a Mad Hatters tea party to celebrate the rivalry between the two fan bases. As the time for a rematch draws near Skelsthorpe holds its breath. The Mob, as the Frillby fans are known, have promised to match the efforts of the Slarty Boys with a celebration of both beverages. What is planned is unknown but local businesses are battening down the hatches in preparation for mayhem!»
